Major Bowes' Troupe Scores Hit in Five Appearances at Palace Theater.

behind the footlights in the major's weekly programs. All of the amateurs received such warm receptions that it will take many an argument among them to decide who was the "hit" of the program.

The amateurs drew well-filled houses. Vincent Velano, the singing chef and master of ceremonies, who told Major Bowes that his mouth watered every time he thought of his own cooking, kept the amateurs' acts moving at a fast pace and contributed a vocal solo in the middle of the program.

The Connecticut Four opened the program with instrumental and vocal contributions of Russian numbers, culled by a few steps of Russian dancing.

Then came Gloria Berger, Hungarian soprano, who belted her 21 years with a power and depth of voice that made the audience call for more.

Clarence Hedding, 39, gave a series of imitations of sounds that kept his listeners in laughter and brought him generous applause.

May We Send A Bouquet To Your Wife?

We have just purchased a series of original paintings of flowers for our friends—the only prints of the famous O. W. Mellin group that will be available to residents of this community.

Gloriously beautiful, some a rhapsodic riot of colors, others a symphony of softly blending hues caught by a genius from Nature's most exciting creations and brought to you in such faithful reproductions by the new miracle of lithography that they will seem to have retained some of their original fragrance.

With each of the prints comes the legend or history of the flower, each an exciting and romantic story... and with each is the fabled meaning of the flower, so that the series will bring to you the silent but colorful "Language of Flowers."

Write or call today to be placed on the list of those who will be sure to receive the complete series, with our compliments.

WORKERS FILE 72 INJURY CLAIMS

Division of Safety and Hygiene Report Issued.

According to a report prepared by Supl. Thomas P. Kearns of the division of safety and hygiene for the state, Marion county industrial workers filed 72 injury claims in October. None of the injuries were fatal, two caused permanent partial disability, 19 over one week lost time, eight caused seven days or less of lost time and 43 were medical cases causing no lost time. The time lost to county workers during the month was 2,064 days.

In the entire state 15,449 workers filed injury claims during the month. While this is 1,150 less than in the month of September, the 91 fatal cases filed with the industrial commission is 14 more than in the preceding month and 15 more than in the corresponding month of 1934.

Exceptional increases in public works and other construction during the month, when a seasonal decline is ordinarily expected, is largely accountable for the increased severity, commission officials believe.

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COPELAND

Stomach Ulcer.

Ulcer of the stomach is also known as "gastric ulcer" and "peptic ulcer." It is an annoying disturbance. Though the actual cause is not known, we are familiar with the many factors which contribute to its formation.

Peptic ulcer is a common ailment of middle life. It is usually associated with faulty eating habits and a general lack of resistance to infection and disease. In many cases it can be traced to some center of infection, such as diseased teeth, tonsils or nasal sinuses.

A well-known stomach specialist once said that "gastric ulcer is not in reality a local disease of the stomach." He meant that the disturbance, although located in the stomach, is really due to some constitutional weakness. The same physician pointed out that ulcer is influenced by diet, climate, race and the state of the nervous system.

Peptic ulcer is the term used, not only for ulceration of the stomach, but also of the duodenum. The duodenum is the first part of the small intestine, connecting the gut with the stomach. Due to certain changes, a small portion of the mucous membrane lining of the stomach or duodenum loses its vitality. Pretty soon there is inflammation and ulceration follows that.

The victim of this affliction complains of pain in the pit of the stomach. These attacks come on after meals. Some foods are more likely to cause it than others. In the advanced form the symptoms are quite pronounced and sometimes alarming. The sufferer complains of severe pain and vomits material which may contain fresh blood. In some cases, too, blood may be seen in the stools.

During an attack, the patient may be so restless as to toss from side to side. The knees and thighs are drawn up to lessen the pressure on the inflamed stomach. The sufferer takes short, rapid breaths, almost panting in a severe case. He appears acutely ill and, if it is regarded necessary, is quite willing to submit to an immediate operation.

Fortunately, not all cases of peptic ulcer have symptoms quite so severe. Nor does every case require operation. The observance of a few simple rules of conduct will bring cure in most instances.

Some patients obtain relief by eating at more frequent intervals and by the taking of alkalis. But such relief is usually only temporary.

There must be strict adherence to the diet outlined by your physician. The diet should be ample and free from fried and greasy foods, pepper, spices and other condiments, and excessive quantities of salt.

A more rigid diet is required in the more severe form of peptic ulcer. This may consist of an exclusive diet of milk and crackers for several weeks. Just what diet is needed can only be determined after X-ray examinations and analysis of the stomach. Your doctor will advise you.

Farm Bureau Has Notable 15-Year Record of Accomplishment

"Let's Go It Together" Adopted As 1936 Slogan

Service of Organization Results in Lower Operating Cost and Improved Facilities for Agriculture.

Fifteen years ago when the Farm Bureau was organized, few people realized that they had laid the foundation of an institution destined to become the great factor in Ohio agriculture that it is today. Farmers were discouraged from all sides by certain business interests in an effort to keep them from cooperating with each other to accomplish the things which would better farm conditions and bring about a better standard of living on the farm. But in the face of all these obstacles, farmers in Marion county and Ohio have gone ahead and developed an organization that has saved thousands of dollars for themselves and their neighbors in the purchase of farm supplies and by the fighting for a legislative program that would protect the interests of the farmer. Fertilizer Cost Cut. In 1921 the price of fertilizers was extremely high, and through the pooling of orders by Ohio farmers the price was broken from eight dollars a ton to four dollars a ton. In less than ten years farmers working together have built one of the ten largest Automobile Mutual Casualty companies in the United States. In recent months the advantage of cooperative insurance has been brought to folks of small towns and cities. Already a great many urban residents have availed themselves of the opportunity of carrying protection at a selected risk rate. As an added service, property insurance against fire and windstorm has been taken care of by the organization of a fire insurance company which has over $25,000,000 on its books, although it has been operating only 15 months.

Chevrolet Sets Record With Sales in November

Countrywide sales by Chevrolet dealers for the first 10 days of November totaled 32,657 units, nearly double the highest total for the same period in previous years. It was announced by Chevrolet Motor Co. The total reflects the results of the early introduction of 1936 models and the change of date of the automobile show season, says the announcement. The total of 32,657 not only exceeds the record of any previous corresponding period, but sets a new high mark for 10 days' sales following the introduction of any previous new models, it was said. Aid To Sales Seen "It is apparent that the early presentation of new models, and the holding of the automobile shows in November instead of January, has had an important effect on seasonal sales," commented W. J. Heller, vice president and general sales manager, who announced the new record. "This first 10-day period of November included one day on which the new Chevrolet were not on sale, since they were not shown to the public till Nov. 3, yet its sales exceed the total 30-day November sales of all but four years in the history of the company. Our largest November record was in 1928, and the sales in the first 10 days of that month were 17,018 units, only slightly more than half of the new record just established. "As to the effect of November vs. January introduction, it is significant that our first 10 days' record for the current month is more than double our sales for the first 10 days following any January introduction of new models. "In Chevrolet, this effect is already assured for this winter, for our November and December production schedules, originally set at a figure far above previous output records for those months, have been stepped up to still greater totals based upon both early sales reports and orders taken for future deliveries all over the country."

gram in the financing of this new enterprise. For years, farmers have been anxious to get power line electric service, and most private power companies have refused to extend their lines into the rural sections. A great deal of the drudgery of farm life can be lifted by the use of electricity, and the organized farmers of Marion county are rallying to the support of their organization in a unified effort to bring this great service to every farm home that it is humanly possible to reach. Leaders of the Farm Bureau in Marion county are earnestly urging every farmer to stay with his organization in this great project and to get in touch with the local Farm Bureau office for any information.

O. S. U. Beats Michigan; Places Two On All Star Team

5 MINNESOTA MEN PICKED BY COACHES FOR LEAGUE HONORS

Captain Comer Jones and Merle Wendt Buckeye Choices of Coaches.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—Minnesota's mighty array placed five men on The Associated Press Western Conference All Star football team selected by the ten coaches, for the second straight year, but left a large share of the honor for Chicago's John Jacob (Jay) Berwanger.

The Gopher representatives are Tackles Edwin Wilder and Richard Smith; Charles Wilkinson, guard; Quarterback Vernal (Duke) Livoir and Fullback Sheldon Beise. Berwanger, one of the greatest backs in Big Ten gridiron history, rated on the midway in the same bracket with the late Walter Eckersall, was the only unanimous choice, a honor rarely accorded.

Ohio State, which shared the conference championship with Minnesota, and Northwestern gained two places each on the first team. The other position went to Iowa's star Negro, Otto Blommons.

The Buckeye stars are Captain Comer Jones at center, and Merle Wendt, end. Northwestern's Henry W. Longfellow won the other end position, and his teammate, Paul Tangora, was paired up with Wilkinsons at guard.

Three members of the mythical eleven, Berwanger, Wilder and Wendt, were honored for the second consecutive year. Jones, Ohio State's five playmate, was a 1935 second team selection.

James Karcher of Forest, first string guard on the Ohio State team, was picked as a member of the second squad. Coaches' selections for the second team were:

BEWARE OF SKIDS!

Amazing "Road-Drying" Tire Tread Sweeps

Away Water and Slush With A Windshield-Wiper Action

One minute spent to read this story may save your life!

It's about the new rugged Goodrich Silvertown—with its 14 rows of double-deep, sure-grip edges that make you and your family extra-safe on wet, slippery roads and protect you from dangerous "tail-spin" skids. Here's how:

Silvertowns are built with three big center ribs instead of the usual two. At the first sign of a skid, these three center ribs sweep away water and slush—a regular windshield-wiper action that gives the double outer row of husky Silvertown cleats a full dry surface to grip.

And you'll be safer on Silvertowns for another reason, too. No other tire in the world has the Life-Saver Golden Ply—the remarkable Goodrich invention that resists the heat generated inside the tire by today's high speeds and thus protects you against dangerous, high-speed blow-outs.

No Extra Cost

With winter driving just ahead and with roads often as slippery as glass, don't take chances. You need this "road drying" tread under your car. This is the real money-saving time to put new tires on your car. Tires wear less during fall and winter months than on hot summer pavements. So you can have the protection of this life saving tire on your car this winter and still have practically a new tire for next summer's driving.

And in spite of the fact that Goodrich engineers have packed one safety feature after another into this amazing tire, Silvertowns cost not a penny more than other standard tires!

PAIR OF BUCKEYE GRIDMEN ON ALL-BIG TEN TEAM

ALL-BIG TEN
Minnesota's Gophers, placing five players on The Associated Press All-Big Ten football team for 1936, selected by conference coaches, dominates the all-star lineup with three linemen and two backs. Northwestern and Ohio State each have two men in the lineup, while Iowa and Chicago each played one. Jay Berwanger, standout, Chicago back, was the only man to receive unanimous vote of the coaches. The lineup thus represents five schools, with no players from Purdue, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan or Indiana. (Associated Press photos.)

MANSFIELD TYGERS DEFEAT MT. VERNON

Special to The Star
MANSFIELD, Nov. 23.—The Mansfield High Tigers won undisputed claim to the North Central Ohio league championship by trouncing the Mt. Vernon Yellow Jackets, 47 to 0, in the final N. C. O. game of the season, played here Saturday.

Captain Nick Weber, playing his last game, scored two of the seven Tiger touchdowns and kicked five extra points. His passing paved the way for three other Mansfield scores.

The victory was the eighth this season for the strong Tiger team, which has lost only to Sandusky.

WEAVER, YAGUI JOE WRESTLE TONIGHT

The pre-Thanksgiving treat for Marion wrestling fans, scheduled at the Shovel gymnasium tonight, will feature Buck Weaver of Terra Haute and Yagui Joe of Sonora, Mex., in one of the two main bouts.

In the other main attraction, George Craig of Tulsa, Okla., will wrestle with Mexican Pete of Mexico City.

Both bouts should be clean and scientific and provide fans with an evening of good entertainment. Both Weaver and Yagui Joe have scrapped at the Shovel recently. George Craig and Mexican Pete return here after a long absence.

A 20-minute preliminary has been arranged to start the card promptly at 8:30 p. m.

Ten County Cage Teams To Play Wednesday Night

Contests Moved Up Because of Thanksgiving Holiday; Claridon To Open Season with Agosta.

County basketball games this week have been moved ahead to Wednesday night because of the brief vacation over Thanksgiving.

Ten of the 11 Marion county rural schools have already opened their 1936-37 league season and are preparing for top positions. Claridon, the only team which has not seen action in league competition, will entertain the Agosta team Wednesday night.

Other league games scheduled for Wednesday night are Prospect at Waldo, LaRue at Kirkpatrick, Morral at Pleasant and Green Camp at Martel. Caledonia, the eleventh team, will be idle this week.

Both boys' and girls' teams from the Pleasant and LaRue schools are holding positions in the top flight of their respective leagues after registering victories in the first games played last Friday night. Prospect and Green Camp boys' teams are also holding perfect records, having won two and one games respectively.

The Mortal and Waldo girls' teams both hold two league wins. Martel defeated Agosta and Morral, while Waldo defeated Morral and Green Camp. Two other girls' teams, LaRue and Pleasant, have won one league game each to stay in the top notch position.

LaRue has won over Caledonia, and Pleasant has defeated Agosta.

BUCKEYES IN TIE WITH MINNESOTA IN BIG TEN CONFERENCE

National Championship Argument Difficult To Settle with Several Teams Bidding.

By The Associated Press
MINNESOTA'S 33-7 conquest of Wisconsin and Ohio State's 38-0 rout of Michigan Saturday left Gophers and Buckeyes locked in a tie for the Big Ten conference title, with the season completed.

Indiana, which whipped Purdue, 7-0, wound up in a percentage tie with the Bullermakers for third place. Northwestern and Iowa fought to a scoreless tie and Chicago, led by Jay Berwanger, spilled Illinois 7-6, in other closing games.

A double dose of competition this week will settle most of the remaining sectional arguments stirred up by a frenzied football campaign, but the biggest dispute of all never will be settled to everyone's satisfaction.

The list of national championship contenders—just about as mythical as the championship itself—consists today of Minnesota, Princeton, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and New York University, if it must be limited to teams neither beaten nor tied.

Minnesota, unbeaten in 24 games over three seasons, has wound up competition for the year and thus rests its championship case on its 1935 record of eight successive triumphs. Princeton, apparently, is certain to wind with a perfect record, and so too, it seems, will either Texas Christian or Southern Methodist, depending on which wins their crucial duel this week.

N. Y. U. is conceded scarcely a chance to get past Fordham, but if the Violets win, they will have some part in any argument over national honors.

The Rose Bowl game at Pasadena New Year's day may eliminate one of the remaining contenders, but there seems to be no real hope that a generally acceptable champion can be settled on.

Stanford's 34-0 victory over California, previously unbeaten and untied, virtually assured a triple tie for the championship of the Pacific coast conference among Stanford, California and U. C. L. A.

ZEH LEADS GRID SCORERS OF NATION

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—High scoring honors for the 1936 football season apparently rest with Ray Zeh, Western Reserve fullback who has amassed 112 points by 15 touchdowns and 22 points after touchdowns.

Zeh has another chance to boost his total when Western Reserve plays Case this week. His nearest competitor, Eddie Stanley of Williams, hung up his moleskins a week ago Saturday after having registered 16 touchdowns for 96 points.

MT. GILEAD PLACES FOUR ON LOOP TEAM

Newspaper Selects All-Star Eleven in Mid-State Football League.

Four members of the Mt. Gilead football squad, 1935 champions of the Mid-State league, have been placed on a mythical first team of the loop selected by the Mansfield News-Journal.

Bob Payne, captain of the Mt. Gilead team, was selected as All-Mid-State quarterback. The three other members of the championship team picked for the first team were: Richardson, end; Bennett, center and Hiser, fullback. Two Mt. Gilead players were placed on the second team, Blayney at tackle and Geyer at guard.

Members of the All-Mid-State team, as selected by the Mansfield News-Journal, are: ends, Richardson, Mt. Gilead; Boore, Fredericktown; tackles, Krause, Loudonville; Hiser, Bellville; guards, Desterhaff, Madison; Klipp, Madison; center, Bennett, Mt. Gilead; halfbacks, Kaylor, Danville; Harmon, Madison; quarterback, Payne, Mt. Gilead; fullback, Welter, Mt. Gilead.

Second team choices are: ends, Tohn, Madison; R. Ward, Butler; tackles, Zimmerman, Loudonville; Blayney, Mt. Gilead; guards, Geyer, Mt. Gilead; Sireby, Fredericktown; center, Palmer, Madison; halfbacks, Teator, Bellville; Critchfield, Danville; quarterback, Esselbren, Madison; fullback, Atterholt, Loudonville.

Shipping or Settling?
Wiseacre will knit their brows over the first batch of returns from the Literary Digest's latest poll and arrive at momentous conclusions. It would be a great help if some of them could give the correct answer to the only problem that really matters in the prospect for next year's political campaign. That is the problem of whether President Roosevelt's popularity is slipping or merely settling.

The Digest report shows Iowa Knows and Missouri against him, with Oklahoma and Georgia less enthusiastic than former. If the negative aspect of the first three states is reflected in the poll of other midwestern states Democratic strategists will have something to worry about. President Roosevelt is commonly believed must carry the farm belt to win in 1936. He can afford to slip in the east but not in the west. The south of course will go Democratic.

Obviously, the President has been losing popularity. A Literary Digest poll early in 1934 indicated more than 60 per cent approval of presidential policies. No one believes the percentage now would be appreciably higher than 50. Many feel sure it would drop below 50 throughout the whole country. Three opinions reveal clearly the real political problem of 1936. How far has Mr. Roosevelt slipped?

Will Mr. Roosevelt continue to slip or has he touched bottom? Every President must expect to lose some of his election popularity as he is forced to offend minorities from time to time with administrative decisions. That is inevitable. Frequently, however, there is a point discernible to political experts, where popularity halts in its descent and thereafter is subject to only increases. Paul Mallon Washington columnist reported simultaneously with publication of the Literary Digest poll results that President Roosevelt's intimate advisers feel this point has been reached and that his popularity will increase henceforth. But, if there could be a poll to forecast the future as well as to judge the present job which The Literary Digest tackles so manfully at intervals could be done completely. There wouldn't be any suspense at all in a political campaign.

Concluded.

Col C O Sherrill's letter to Gov. Davey announcing completion of his task as chairman of the Ohio government survey emphasizes the possibility of saving $15,000,000 in the near future by taking advantage of the survey's reports. Obviously the public is not going to forget so large a figure.

Whether or not anything is done about taking advantage of the work done by the Ohio government survey no governor will be allowed to forget that the survey examined all state departments thoroughly and recommended certain changes. There has been established in other words a place to start in case someone really wants to start.

It is unfortunate that the tone of Col Sherrill's cordial letter to Gov. Davey is not duplicated in the tone of all other comments regarding the survey. Ohio residents have been given the impression that Davey administration jobholders intend to forget the so-called Sherrill reports as quickly and painlessly as possible.

The fact is that the whole project now concluded has received more attention outside Ohio than it has at home. Objectively the survey conducted at private expense for public benefit is an excellent idea. To Gov. Davey and his advisers and to other politicians of both parties the survey's objective value is limited severely by the limitations it places upon spending. The wide gratitude I owe to Col Sherrill and the Ohio government survey committee members. It is plainer than ever at this time however that the hardest job is not in showing how a thing can be done but to do it.

Auto Drivers' License

Enactment of an automobile driver's license bill by the legislature is a logical continuation of Ohio's effort to obtain a larger measure of control over persons who operate motor vehicles on its roads. The assumption has been made and accepted that the greater the state's control becomes the safer the highways will be.

The theoretical benefit of driving licenses is derived from the necessity of holding a license in order to operate an automobile legally. Apparently it is not the intent of the law to submit applicants to a rigid physical and mental examination. With relatively few exceptions, everybody will be able to get a license. The important thing will be to keep it. A judge in any court of record may suspend or revoke any driver's license upon a conviction for manslaughter, intoxication, perjury and felony. If the crime is related in any direct way to the operation of an automobile or to enforcement of the license act, a preliminary survey indicates that the measure has been furnished with a formidable set of teeth.

Yet it does not seem amiss to suggest at the outset of what must be viewed as an experiment with motor laws in this state that no law can be any better than its enforcement. The legislature could pass a new automobile law each day for a month without accomplishing a thing unless the state as a whole honestly wanted to abide by the law. In Columbus lawmakers have concluded it is imperative to do something to answer the challenge of a vast and ghastly toll of accidents and deaths on the highways. They have passed a few laws hoping to bring about improvement. Upon the state's willingness to make the laws work however depends the amount of improvement. If Ohio really wants to do something about its automobile fatality problem it has been given a place to start.

Leadership of High Value.

Steadily increasing activities and growth of the grange has been one of the outstanding developments among citizen organizations in Marion county during the last decade. Various factors have contributed to expansion of this important rural enterprise and beyond doubt one of the most effective has been competent leadership. In that connection is noted the policy of retaining leaders year after year. This plan is not followed by the majority of organizations engaged in promoting civic and community programs. The tendency is to pass the honors of office around by electing or appointing new executives at the end of each term regardless of how excellent may have been the service of those who have been in charge.

Not so with the grange at least in Marion county and we presume a similar program is followed throughout Ohio generally. An example is found in the recent reappointment of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer A. Williams as supervisors of the organization's affairs in the county. The state grange master Walter F. Kirk of Port Clinton has returned Mr. and Mrs. Williams to office for their seventh consecutive year obviously because he believes they should be kept on the job as long as they are willing to serve. Their records prove the wisdom of Mr. Kirk's choice.

Mr. Williams as deputy state master supervises and directs the general grange program in Marion county and Mrs. Williams as deputy matron of the juvenile granges is responsible for development and maintenance of the branch in which young people are enrolled. Both have done splendid work in their respective fields.

Under Mr. Williams leadership grange membership in the county has nearly doubled and three new grange units have been organized. Five of the Marion county units have received recognition as state champion granges.

In the department directed by Mrs. Williams juvenile granges have kept pace with advancement of the major organization. Three new juvenile groups have been instituted and two in the county have won awards for achieving the best records among all juvenile granges in the United States.

These major achievements and many others which a more detailed account would reveal make it apparent that State Master Kirk has followed a sensible course in deciding that the two county leaders should be kept at the helm.

Many of the various community granges in this and other counties have adopted the same plan according to reports of recent meetings which tell of masters re-elected for continued successful service.

This wise policy of the grange is worth the consideration of similar organizations with purposes aimed to benefit their members and the public generally. The same method has always been in effect in the management of business and industrial concerns which seldom if ever remove directors or executives who are setting satisfactory results.

Recent news reports that there are Bibles 100 to 200 years old in Marion county and vicinity reminds us that if a minimum of handling means anything some new editions we have seen in modern homes ought to last at least twice that long.

Authorities in Chicago are trying to force a former public official to produce $414,000 which he neglected turning over to his successor. Probably just one of those forgetful fellows.

A toothless man applied to the WPA office in a Missouri city for a set of false teeth explaining he had read that they were doing bridge work. He ought to get the teeth. Radio comedians are paid for jokes no half as good.

Neighborhood History

CRUSADES
The temperance war known as the Women's Crusade became active in Marion in February and March of 1844. An informal meeting was held Feb. 26 when Rev. S. D. Bates was chosen president, and Mrs. Van Hook secretary. I. R. Anderson and Rev. D. D. Waugh were appointed delegates to attend a convention in Cleveland where Dr. D. Lewis was conducting a campaign and invited him to come to Marion. While Dr. Lewis was unable to come the women refused to be disappointed and the women worked more zealously than ever to bring about a reform in Marion. A large mass meeting was held in the Methodist church in 1844 when 100 men pledged themselves to assist in the temperance work.

New York Day by Day

NEW YORK Nov. 25.—In the manner of Arnold Bennett's "The Great Game" one of those whirling girls sat next me at a counter snack place this noon. "I've been on the loose all night," she volunteered. "Do I look a fright?" She looked as poised smooth and prettily done as a morning rose. O youth.

A publicity push has been trying to sign up a self-effacing friend for a national air cast. He promises over night fame. But my friend turns a deaf ear. He once trekked across the Sahara with Bedouins and became a convert of the tribal proverb "The dogs bark the caravan passes."

Albert Payson Terhune blundered with Bedouins. Ripley too. Each has a complacent philosophy. Such sartorial effects Ted Sauler achieves. Today he was diked out in a golden brown great coat with a blood red carnation. And a little further along McCalland Barclay with a sky blue muffler dotted in pink.

Two viewpoints. A sprig from Philadelphia writes: "I'm just a cub trying to make a Pabst vocabulary fall into cute folds a headful of ideas and a struggle to express them. Writing looks so easy but it is a trick to blurt things on the typewriter as though they were casual." Another in the Ozarks: "I'm so far in the backwoods that people's breath smells like tan bark. We use possums for tom-cats and the whoop and holler telephone system. But writing is easy. I love it. I write eight hours a day."

Emelyne Detwiler tells about her 8-year-old poetess who sent an offering to Nelson Doubleday the publisher. Ancient min minsters have done worse and achieved immortality. Here it is. Yesterday you were a beautiful thing running across the road little white hen. But that was then. And I like the description Somerset Maugham has for envy. Not because people do not like you but because they are not like you.

M. surprises with fluency in French. Yesterday she rattled slappily hang to a vendue in a perfume salon. A day two years ago during an exasperating incident in Paris she exclaimed: "I'm going to speak this language yet. I parroted. Me too. She did. I did not. Nothing makes a writer win more than something written years back. A doctor in Spokane sends a yellowed clipping of 15 years ago that affixed a fog of despair. I have improved very little. The novelist who gains stature with each fresh book is Charles G. Norris. Vice Hands. His most recent. He is the only author I've known to handle incest without a tinge of revulsion.

I recognized one of those industrious pickpockets with a rag who watches folk approach their cars and then begins furiously to polish the hood for a tip. He was an ally night club gigolo of the boom. They were talking a group last night about things they really wanted to do. I admired the frankness of one successful fellow who yearned to pluck a banjo like Eddie Peabody. Also they discussed irritating radio voices but no one mentioned that hitless bluster to be so dramatic crying. Time marches on! Bob Davis in town again. Back from some far flung reach and itching to be off. To pack up the kit bag and go where you please when you please is mightily near top in living.

From St. Moritz a post card snap shot from some breakfasters in the snow. On the correspondence side. I came here waddling like a brewery horse and in three weeks 28 pounds have vanished in the thin light air. And I even drink beer for breakfast. Skating and skiing performed the miracle. I wondered shaving what becomes of Dashiell Hammett the Thin Man fellow and his hard-boiled romances.

Most human transplants to the city nurse a sentimental tug for the neighborhoods of their first metropolitan hotel boarding house or flat. They make some excuse now and then to pass through them. Mine is on W. 57th near 8th avenue. It will all ways have glamour. I often feel I'd like to drop into the corner drug store milk depot or cigar stand and observe. I used to live around here. What because of old, etc.

ROGERS DRIVE IS EXTENDED

Memorial Campaign Has Been Continued Until Dec. 14.

Because of pleas by county chairman throughout the country the Will Rogers Memorial campaign, scheduled to close Thanksgiving eve, has been extended to Dec. 14. When the memorial committee decided that handicapped children would be the principal beneficiaries of the money subscribed, new impetus was given the drive. Local chairman everywhere asked that the toiler be kept open, so there are two weeks more for Will Rogers' friends and admirers to participate in the memorial.

Banks in Marion county will continue to act as depositories for the subscriptions throughout the remainder of the campaign.

Meanwhile Eddie Rickenbacker, national director of the Rogers commission, urged county committees to speed up their program to publicize and organize the campaign in their communities.

Fred W. Warner, Marion county chairman, said today there has been a reluctance on the part of too many people to subscribe to the fund because they could not contribute a large sum. He again stressed that the pennies of school children and the dimes of office clerks and laborers are just as acceptable and desirable as larger donations from companies and individuals able to give more. "It is hoped that when this campaign ends the donations will represent a cross section of the public to which Will Rogers gave untold pleasure," Mr. Warner said. He urged people to get their contributions, no matter what size, in the banks within the next few days.

Mr. Warner expected to appeal to service clubs, fraternities and societies, and county granges within the next day or two to help his committee speed contributions.

Eddie Rickenbacker, in his appeal to the county committees for action, said "from the very outset it has been the aim and hope of the commission that millions of subscriptions would be received—pennies, dimes, quarters, nickels, a tribute to Will Rogers and his kindness to mankind, just as $190 and $1,000 subscriptions are. Will wouldn't want it any other way."

2 CHILD STRICKEN KENTON, Nov. 25—Henry Eugene Martin, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin of near McGuffey, died Saturday of a heart ailment and was buried in Roundhead cemetery following services in the Hanson funeral home, Sunday afternoon.

WANT TO LOOK YOUNG? The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must get at the cause—there's no need of having a caliginous complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound as a substitute for calomel to act on the intestines, which he gave to his patients for years.

WANT TO LOOK YOUNG? The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must get at the cause—there's no need of having a caliginous complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels.

Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They help bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by clearing the system of impurities.
